

School One Summer Reading 2021

Not Required, Just Some Great Ideas To KEEP READING!

Summer reading lists are no longer by grade level. There is a picture book list and a chapter book list. Each has 40 titles of recently released or soon-to-be released titles. It is my philosophy that picture books are for any age. The chapter books selected are written primarily for students in the age range of 8 to 13. Remember, you can always read a book to your child if it is too advanced for your child to read alone. Even older students like to be read to and can benefit from reading aloud with adults. Don't forget to use the website, Common Sense Media, to determine if the content of a book is right for your family and child.

Have fun and enjoy these lists and activities!

LET'S DRAW

A JELLYFISH

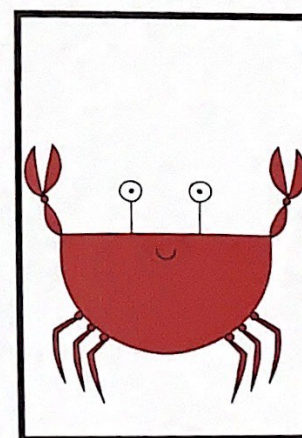

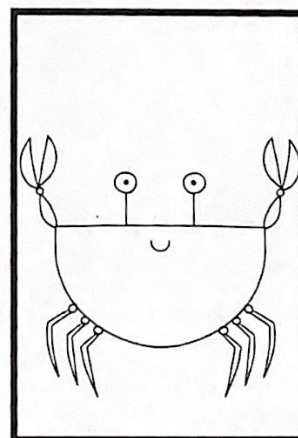

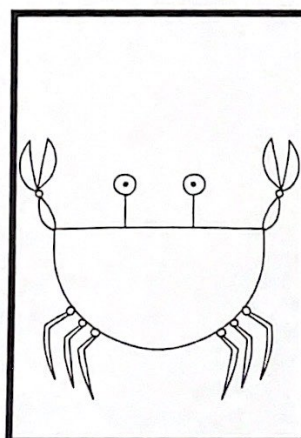

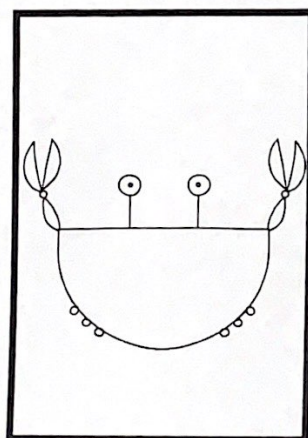

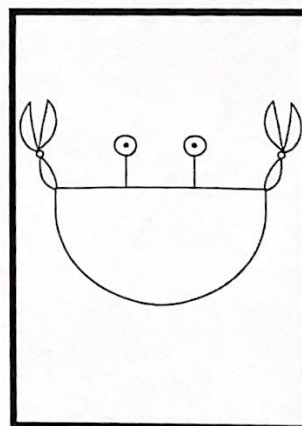

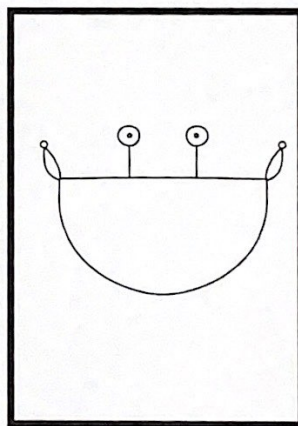

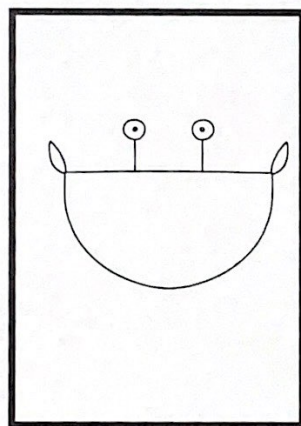

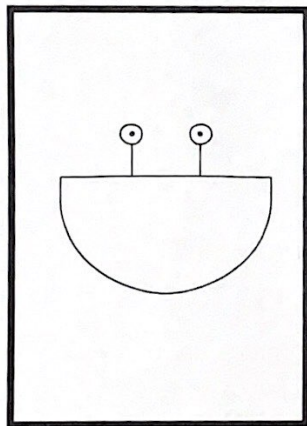

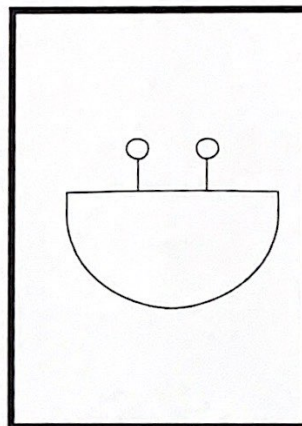

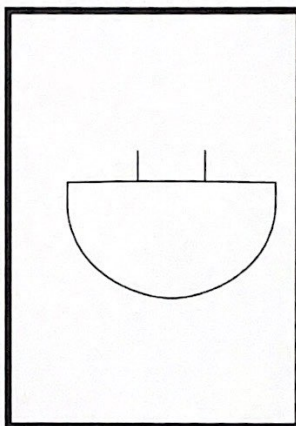

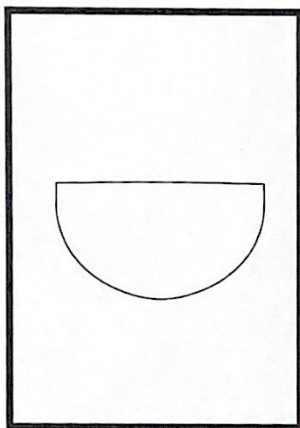

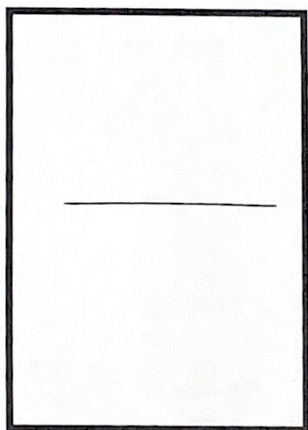

Q: Why did the fisherman put peanut butter on the end of his fishing pole?
A: He wanted to catch jellyfish.

FUN FACT:

Some jellyfish can have tentacles up to 88 feet long!

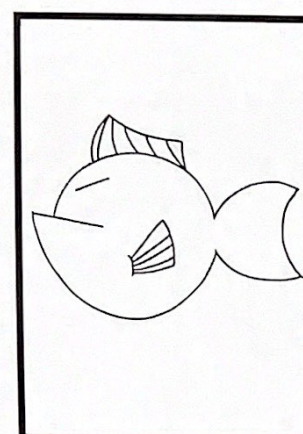

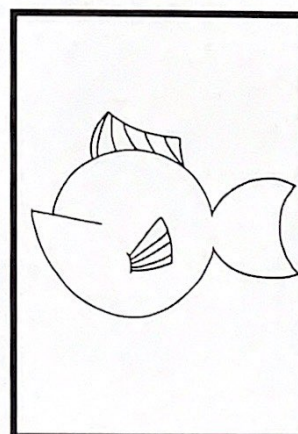

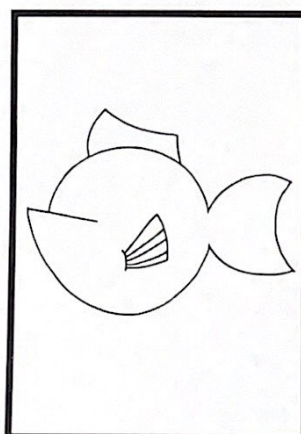

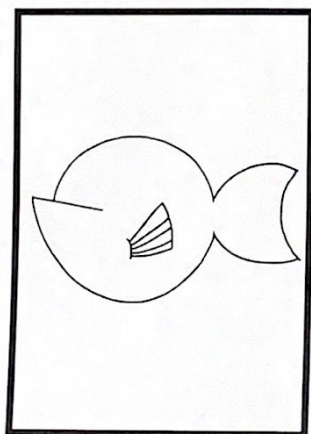

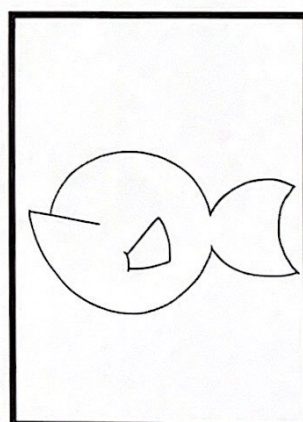

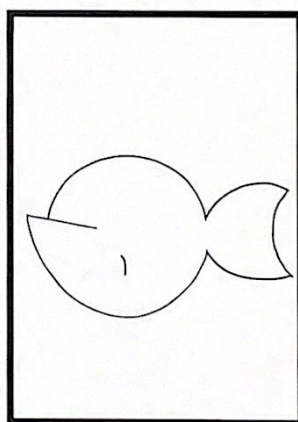

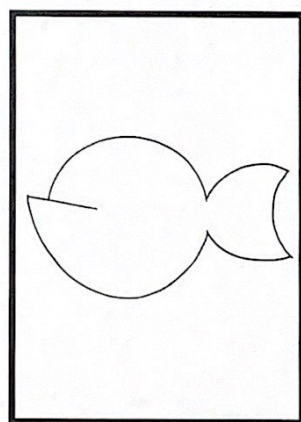

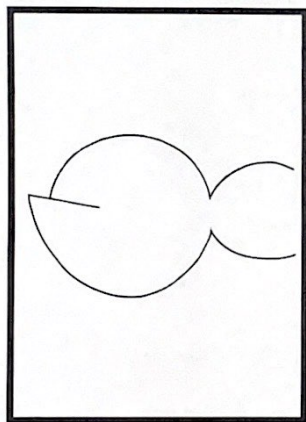

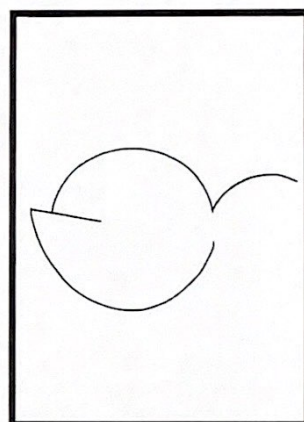

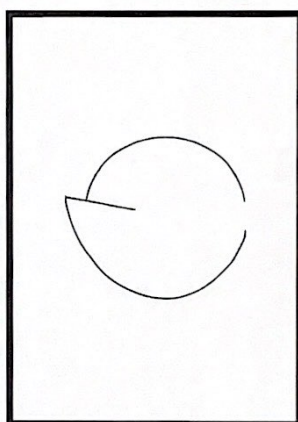

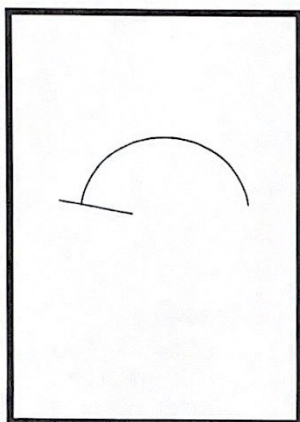

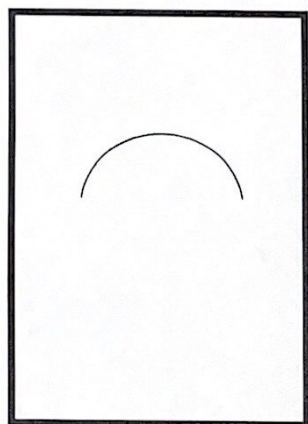

LET'S DRAW

A CRAB

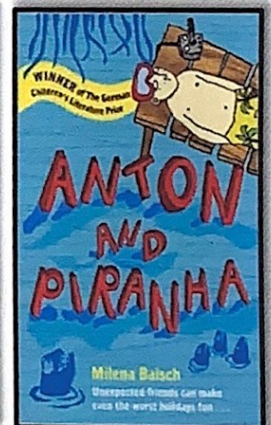

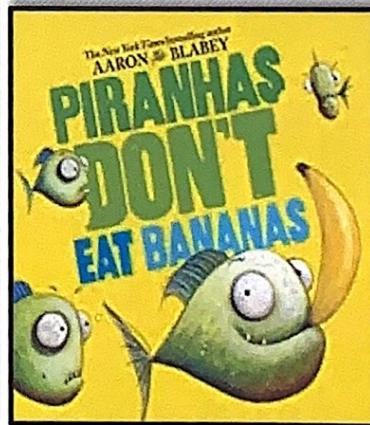

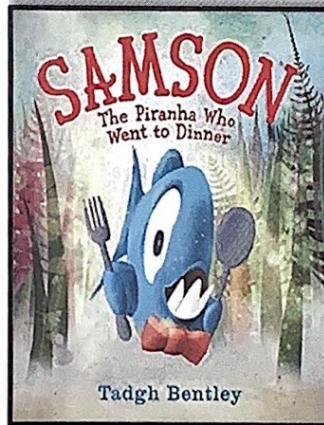

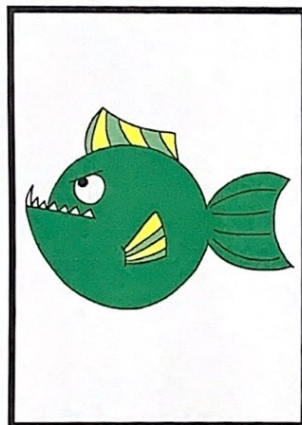

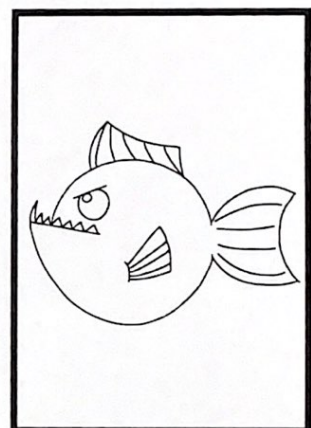

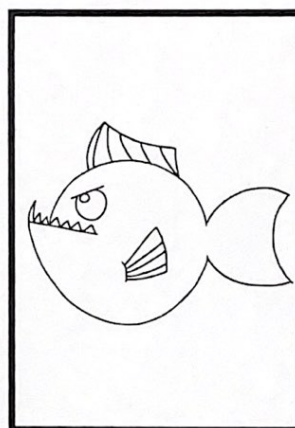

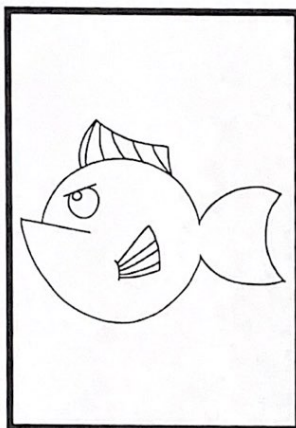

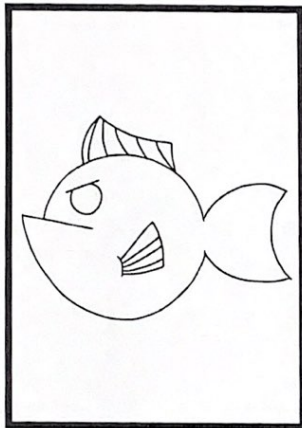

LET'S DRAW

A PIRANHA

LET'S DRAW

A PIRANHA

FUN FACTS:

- Piranha actually means "tooth fish" in the Brazilian language of Tupí.
- Did you know that the red-bellied piranha actually barks? The bark is a warning for predators to stay away!
- Piranhas rarely attack humans; this myth has been perpetuated by horror movies.
- Piranhas have been around for about 25 million years!

book shelfie

Record all your favorite summer reads here as a reminder of the titles you want to share with your teachers, librarians, and friends when you return to school.

The graphic organizer consists of three rows of bookshelves, each represented by a set of empty rectangular and parallelogram shapes for recording book titles.

- Row 1: Features two horizontal rectangles at the top. Below them, on the left, are two vertical rectangles and one tilted rectangle. In the center are three horizontal rectangles stacked on top of each other. On the right are three vertical rectangles and one tilted rectangle.
- Row 2: Features two vertical rectangles and one tilted rectangle on the left. On the right are four horizontal rectangles stacked on top of each other.
- Row 3: Features four horizontal rectangles stacked on the left. On the right are four vertical rectangles and one tilted rectangle.
